GOVERNING BOARD PRESIDENT’S MESSAGE

This past year, much good work has been done in Episcopal schools across the country and it is my pleasure to express gratitude for the strength our association has brought to these efforts. The successful launch of our latest Strategic Plan was among the highlights, and the Governing Board was proud to launch this worthy vessel to carry and lead our association forward into a bright future.

With gladness at the beginning of the year we welcomed the Rev. Julia Whitworth (Trinity Episcopal Church, Indianapolis, IN) and Canon Burns Jones (Cathedral School for Boys, San Francisco, CA) to the Governing Board. At the year’s close, departing the Board along with me, we sent our affection and joyful thoughts with Canon Serena Beeks as she continues her service to Episcopal schools here in the US and Haiti.

God is with us and we rejoice as the light of Episcopal schools shines forth through those dedicated to our shared purpose!

Faithfully,

The Rev. Edmund K. Sherrill II
Governing Board President
EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR’S MESSAGE

It is my sincere privilege to spend a few words in the introduction to the 2018-2019 Annual Report thanking our outgoing President, Ned Sherrill, for his uncommon dedication to our association. Over the years of his leadership, Ned has offered judicious counsel with wisdom and an engaging sense of humor. He has embodied what Episcopal school leadership is all about – being courageous, pastoral, and prophetic.

The report that follows covers extensive ground, not least of all what was a remarkable Biennial Conference in Atlanta. This event in particular was representative of the abundance of talent and heart in Episcopal schools. As you read on, I encourage you to take the time to relish the things we have accomplished together as well as give thanks for all of those who have supported our work, making these accomplishments possible.

Warmest regards,

The Rev. Daniel R. Heischman D.D.
Executive Director
OUR MISSION & PHILOSOPHY

The mission of NAES is to serve those who serve Episcopal schools. Within the Christian tradition of inclusion and open inquiry, NAES:

Affirms the spiritual dimension of learning that values both faith and reason.

Assists Episcopal schools in creating supportive communities through worship, learning, pastoral care and service.

Creates and nurtures an extended community of leaders in order to foster partnerships, unity, mutual support and professional growth.

Recognizes, appreciates and supports the diversity within and among Episcopal schools.

Promotes personal formation through moral, spiritual, intellectual, creative, physical and social development.

Helps schools explore, discover and articulate their visions and ministries as Episcopal schools.
WHAT WE DO

Consonant with our mission and philosophy, we advance Episcopal education, strengthen Episcopal schools, and foster “excellence through association” by providing essential services, resources, conferences, and networking opportunities on:

Episcopal School Identity as expressed through school worship; religious studies and formation; service and service-learning; equity and justice; and school life and culture.

Leadership and Governance matters pertaining to church-school relations and governance; leadership transition; school ministry recruitment, training, and deployment; and school establishment, expansion, and planning.

Spiritual and Professional Development of heads of school, chaplains and teachers of religion, rectors, trustees and vestries, administrators, and teachers.

Isaiah 1:17

Episcopal Schools Celebration
2018-2019
FROM PRESIDING BISHOP MICHAEL CURRY, IN HIS LETTER TO EPISCOPAL SCHOOLS ON THE OCCASION OF THE EPISCOPAL SCHOOLS CELEBRATION 2018-2019:

“Learn to do right; seek justice. Defend the oppressed. The words from Isaiah 1:17 that form the theme this year seem to come to us at an opportune moment. As the world sometimes appears to be coming apart at the seams, a shared commitment to these values is our chance to do our part in holding it all together. But these words aren’t just nice ideas—in the context of the first chapter of Isaiah, they are actually God telling us that these really are the values by which we should live...

...Episcopal schools offer countless opportunities to learn from the past and to respond to the challenges by God to redirect our lives. The 1,200 Episcopal schools spread throughout the United States and abroad are of many different geographic regions, sizes, and types, and yet hold in common a commitment to do right and to redress so many of the imbalances of our culture. So, I invite you to join me in prayer...[t]hen, together, by walking the way of Jesus, which is the Way of Love, we might thereby learn to do right, to seek justice, and to defend the oppressed.”
John D. Verdery Award

The Rev. Canon Preston B. Hannibal

The Rev. Canon Preston B. Hannibal retired in July 2016 as Associate for Pastoral Care at Washington National Cathedral. Prior to joining the cathedral staff he served as Canon for Academic Ministries in the Episcopal Diocese of Washington.

For the past 14 years, chief among his commitments has been the growth and development of The Bishop John T. Walker School for Boys. Its mission and ministry is to serve the boys of traditionally underserved Washington, DC communities who would not ordinarily have a chance to attend a school of its caliber.

Hannibal has served as chaplain and chair of the religion department at St. Mark’s School in Southborough, MA, as a chaplain at St. Paul’s School, Concord, NH, as Associate Minister in the Memorial Church at Harvard University and Chaplain to Harvard College, and as an interim chaplain at Episcopal High School in Alexandria, VA.

He has served on several governing boards, including those of NAES and MAESA. He currently serves on the governing boards of the Bishop John T. Walker School for Boys in Washington, DC, Church Farm School in Exton, PA, St. Mark’s School in Southborough, MA, and the Church Schools in the Diocese of Virginia Board of Trustees.

Ruth Jenkins Award

Doreen Oleson served Saint Mark’s School, an Episcopal Parish Day School in Altadena, CA as head of school for twenty-five years and retired in June, 2015. That same year, she was also the recipient of the 2015 National Association of Independent Schools (NAIS) Diversity Leadership Award.

She served as the president of the governing board of the National Association of Episcopal Schools, was trustee of the National Association of Independent Schools, was president of the California Association of Independent Schools’ board of directors, served on the National Commission on Accreditation, was chair of the Commission on Schools for the Episcopal Diocese of Los Angeles and was a field instructor at the Klingenstein Center, Teachers College.

Dr. Oleson currently is a senior search consultant at Resource Group 175, coaches aspiring school leaders, and belongs to organizations and boards which support education and community service learning.

Featured Speakers

The Rt. Rev. Robert C. Wright,
Bishop of Atlanta
A Way Forward

The Right Rev. Robert C. Wright is the 10th bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Atlanta. Wright was born in a Roman Catholic orphanage in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, and was adopted at 9 months of age. After graduating high school, he served five years in the U.S. Navy. While attending Howard University in Washington, D.C., he worked as a child advocate for two mayors. He earned an M.Div. from Virginia Theological Seminary, and he has been awarded honorary doctor of divinity degrees by the Virginia seminary and Sewanee: The University of the South. Since becoming bishop, Wright has addressed the Georgia legislature about gun control, spoken up for Medicaid expansion and has been a vocal and active opponent of the death penalty in Georgia. In January 2015, he was named among the 100 Most Influential Georgians by GeorgiaTrend magazine.

Tommy Walker
Conversations on Diversity and Inclusion

Tommy Walker is a film and television producer/director based in New York City, and the son of the late Rt. Rev. John T. Walker, the first African-American Bishop of Washington. In 2005 Walker co-directed and produced the award-winning documentary, God Grew Tired of Us, detailing the plight of refugees from war torn Sudan, their subsequent immigration to America, and their experience in a post 9/11 world. Walker’s commercial films have been used to brand and introduce new directions and products for prominent companies. Walker is currently a producer and partner with Freemind Beauty, a production company that has produced The Black List, The Latino List, and The Out List for HBO documentaries as well as The Boomer List and The Women’s List for PBS American Masters.

Ketch Secor
The Princeton Cut

Ketch Secor is best known as a founding member of the two-time Grammy Award winning band, Old Crow Medicine Show. His musical story traces back more than two decades to a childhood in the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia where he grew up exploring the region’s deep heritage of southern roots music. He has penned dozens of original songs in this tradition, including the Platinum selling “Wagon Wheel.” In 2016, Ketch and his wife Lydia Peelle founded the Episcopal School of Nashville, the nation’s newest Episcopal school. Located in the urban neighborhood of East Nashville, since its inception the Episcopal School of Nashville has been highly intentional about creating a student body of diverse ethnic, cultural, religious and socio-economic backgrounds. Ketch currently serves as chairman of the board.

Katrina Browne
Walking Sacred Ground: My Family’s Journey to Face our Ancestors’ and the North’s Complicity in Slavery and What I’ve Learned about Teaching Slavery and Race in Schools

Katrina Browne is a consultant for the Episcopal Church’s Beloved Community initiative, supporting dioceses to lead truth-telling, healing dialogue and racial justice efforts in their communities. She produced/directed Traces of the Trade: A Story from the Deep North, a documentary about her slave-trading ancestors from Rhode Island, the hidden history of New England’s complicity in slavery, and her family’s reckoning with issues of white privilege and racial repair. The film contributed to the Episcopal Church’s decision to atone for its role in slavery. Traces of the Trade aired on PBS in 2008, reaching over 1.5 million Americans, receiving extensive press coverage, and an Emmy nomination. Ms. Browne travels extensively with the film—in the U.S. and overseas—presenting in schools, universities, museums, faith institutions, and professional conferences, including many Episcopal schools and churches.

The WONDER Story: Dede and Peter Dankelson
Make Kindness Your Super Power: Teaching Empathy Through Awareness

Peter Dankelson is an ambassador for Children’s Craniofacial Association (CCAkids.org). He was born ten weeks premature with extensive birth defects, resulting in a diagnosis of Goldenhar Syndrome. Peter deeply related to the book Wonder by R.J. Palacio about a boy with a facial difference. Peter speaks with students after they read the book, comparing his real-life story to the fictional character in Wonder. Peter’s mother, Dede Dankelson serves on the Board of Directors for Children’s Craniofacial Association and was Chairman of the Board from 2011-2013. Dede was a founding member of the Patient & Family-Centered Care Advisory Council at Children’s Hospital of Michigan in Detroit and served on the committee from 2005-2015. Her writing has been published in numerous publications both online and in print. Professionally, she works in market research and business communications.
The Rev. Dr. Deanna Ferree Womack
Models of Christian-Muslim Relations:
Past, Present, and Future
Deanna Ferree Womack is Assistant Professor of History of Religions and Multifaith
Relations at Emory University’s Candler School of Theology, and the director of the Leadership and Multifaith Program (LAMP), a joint initiative between Candler and the Ivan Allen College of Liberal Arts at Georgia Tech. Her teaching and scholarship combine commitments to interreligious dialogue, Christian-Muslim understanding, and American-Arab relations. Her current research focuses on conceptions of gender in American Christian discourses about Islam. Womack earned her PhD at Princeton Theological Seminary and is a minister in the Presbyterian Church (USA).

Visits

National Center for Civil & Human Rights Tour
The National Center for Civil and Human Rights harnesses Atlanta’s legacy of civil rights to strengthen the worldwide movement for human rights. Atlanta played a unique leadership role in the American Civil Rights Movement. Through harnessing Atlanta’s legacy and galvanizing the corporate, faith-based, public-sector and university communities, The Center serves as the ideal place to reflect on the past, transform the present and inspire the future.

Atlanta Historical and Civil Rights Tour
Led by a ‘Presenting Atlanta’ tour guide, we traveled down Auburn Avenue, and proceed to the Martin Luther King, Jr. Historic District where Dr. King was born, grew up, preached, and was buried. We stopped at the National Park Service Visitors Center and the Martin Luther King, Jr. Center for Social Change where his grave site is located. From there, we saw Ebenezer Baptist Church and the birth home of MLK. This area, one of the oldest neighborhoods in Atlanta, is now listed on the National Register of Historic Places. Other areas of interest included a drive through the campus of Atlanta University, Edgewood Avenue, and through the heartbeat of Atlanta: Centennial Olympic Park noting the Georgia Aquarium, The World of Coke, and the Center for Human and Civil Rights Museum.

St. Anne’s Day School
Saint Anne’s Day School has been a thriving mission of St. Anne’s Episcopal Church since 1966. In 1994, the school learned of the world-renowned preschools and infant-toddler centers in Reggio-Emilia, Italy. Being intrigued with how the values of the schools in that Italian municipal system resonated with their own beliefs about young children’s learning, Saint Anne’s Day School began a journey of studying, collaborating on, and interpreting the Reggio-Emilia Approach in the context of Saint Anne’s Day School. They have become an inspired leader to the Reggio-Emilia approach through Project Infinity, connecting to other schools in Georgia and South Carolina. Visiting this thriving early childhood and after-school program campus in the woods of Buckhead introduced visitors to a true application of Reggio-Emilia!

  The third year of the Mentoring Program for New Chaplains kicked off at Biennial 2018 with 22 participants. Mentees and Mentors represented the variety of NAES membership, with boarding, day, parish, and independent schools serving grades K-8 and K-12 in Florida, Texas, Maryland, Virginia, California, Tennessee, Washington DC, Minnesota, and North Carolina.
Mentee reflections on the experience:

“Having someone in a school that looks and feels like mine made me feel not-so-alone!”

“I am so grateful for this program. It was perfect for me both in terms of content and commitment. Thank you for being such faithful partners with us!”

Mentor reflections on the experience:

“A strength of the program is the abundance of resources from NAES and the member schools available to meet the needs of the mentee. The benefit of the program for me has been the opportunity to grow in my own ministry as I learn what newer chaplains are exploring.”

“Chaplains are often lone rangers and it helps both parties to connect and discuss the unique nature of our vocations.”
